At Union Station.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Detroit, Mich., May 28.—More than fifty firemen were overcome by smoke
and ten partly unconscious foreigners were dragged to safety from the flames which swept the basement of the Union station here last night. The fire, one of the most stubborn in the history of Detroit, was not completely extinguished until early today. The cause has not been determined, but it started in a room in the basement where records were kept. The loss is $30,000. The firemen confined the flames to the basement by the Wabash,
Pier Marquette and Canadian Pacific railroads. The old Michigan Central station, a short distance away, recently was destroyed by fire.HEAVY EARTHQUAKES

ENVOYS TO NIAGARA FALLS
MEDIATION CONFERENCE[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Sheboygan, May 28.—High tribute was paid the Mexican delegates at the Niagara Falls mediation conference at Niagara Falls in a letter written by one who is in close touch with the mediators. The letter read here today is in part as follows:
"One thing I found was unanimous of opinion. The Mexican representatives are big and able-bodied men who have impressed most favorably those who came in contact with them. The general feeling is that the conference will last quite a while.
Several weeks, even several months,
unless some outrage on the part of the Huerta followers should take place."
The people of the United States
do not want war with Mexico, and the army wants war less than the people.
For that, with poor and unpopular
Mexicans would be most unfavorable and costly affair. So let us hope that the mediation will be successful and the delicate and dangerous task they have undertaken will make them and Mr. Wilson famous.GOVERNMENT OF CHILE

waukee temperance lecturer, who was abducted at Westfield during the "dry"
campaign, and obtained his freedom

I cannot say."Please deny for Mr. Patmont the statement that he has recognized in duction. There is nothing to that report. We have learned nothing new."TAKE APPEAL FROM KUOLT'S DECISIONMarathon County Capitalists Refused Bank Charter Submit Application to Referee Board.[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., May 28.—Whether another bank is needed in Marathon

county is a question now before the referee board—consisting of the governor, secretary of state and attorney general—for decision.Promoters of a new bank in the village applied to the state banking department for a charter, and Commissioner of Banking A. E. Kuolt refused it. He based his decision on the ground that the bank was a split bank, that there is no need for another banking institution in a town of that size, and that its promoters included men who have gone bankrupt. A new law, whose enactment following Mr. Kuolt's decision, annual recommendations, provides that promoters must show cause why a new bank should not be granted a charter. This is the first appeal from a decision of the commissioner in such a case, and should the decision
now be overruled, it is said the usefulness of the new provision of the banking law may be questioned.
Following Mr. Kuolt's decision, a clear case against the new bank. Further action will be taken next Saturday.ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

THE NEW CARDINALS
IN SACRED COLLEGERed Hat Conferred by His Holiness
On Fourteen Members at a Public Consistory.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, May 28.—The public consistory
at the Vatican at which the red hat was conferred on those now in Rome of the thirteen new cardinals created on Monday, was held today
and was attended by several thousand people, most of whom were Americans and other foreigners. The special missionaries will be sent to take their beretras, as was done in the case of Cardinal Gibbons.
The ceremony attracted much attention even outside the Vatican. The public being interested in the departure of each cardinal from his residence to go to the Apostolic Palace.
The public procession and the ceremony which followed were conducted with great pomp. The passage of the pontiff, surrounded and followed by many ecclesiastical, military and civil dignitaries, and the entrance into the palace from the consistory, was most impressive.After the consistory the cardinals, both old and new, gathered in their studies and to the Vatican. The ceremony presided over by the Pope,
in the consistorial hall where Pope Pius X bestowed the cardinals' ring, granted them the privileges of their position and named their titular
"churches."The ceremony this morning was the most elaborate which has been held at the Vatican since the November consistory of 1911, when most of the cardinals created at that time, there were three American cardinals. The presence of all three of the latter, namely Cardinals Farley, Falconio and O'Connell, had been expected. Cardinal Gibbons, who contributed much toward making today's consistory notable, as the presence of American cardinals at Rome has at all times aroused an interest and enthusiasm which that of other cardinals fails to engender.Many Pilgrims Attend.
The attendance today was also most unusual, this being the second of the year. Just before Easter, when Rome is filled with pilgrims and tourists from all parts of the world.
The limited number of tickets allocated to the public was exhausted, and the thousands of pilgrims who had requests had to be refused.In pursuance with the customs of centuries special tribunes were set aside at the consistory for the cardinals of the various orders.
These included the diplomats accredited to the Vatican, who attended in full uniform and decorations; the heads of the religious orders, the Knights of Malta, the Franciscans, Benedictines and Jesuits; the officers of the pope's Noble Guards, the Swiss Guards, and his ecclesiastical prelates. There was also the special tribune which for centuries has been reserved for the noble families of the Roman aristocracy,
and set aside to this, at the special request of Pope Pius, a special tribune
was placed for his two sisters and niece who keep him company in Rome. The standing room left for the public at large was crowded to the last inch.The greater portion of the morn-ing's ceremony consisted in the flur-tive bestowing on the new cardinals of the red hat, the symbol of their rank. The Pope, seated on a throne called the throne of St. Peter, advanced toward the papal throne, dropping to his knees three times before finally reaching the feet of Pope Pius.
The latter, for a moment, turned toward the head of each of the new cardinals, the same one being used for each cardinal, and recited the ritual prescribed for the occasion. Following this, the Pope placed on the finger of each cardinal a magnificent gold ring, set with the special jewels belonging to the particular order of cardinals to which each had been assigned and clothed with the apostolic benediction.Later in the day, special emissaries, driving in the state carriages of the pope, visited the hotel of each cardinal and personally handed to him that becomes a part of the permanent regalia of each new cardinal prince of the church. This hat is retained until the death of his Holiness, when it is suspended for all time to come in the church of which he had been the particular cardinal protector.Throughout the entire ceremony, lasting nearly two hours, Pope Pius appeared at all times in the best of health, and at its close there was no evidence whatever of the fatigue or collapse which invariably follows all such ceremonies towards the close of the pontificate of Pope Leo XIII.Pope Pius' whole aspect, as well as his strong resonant voice, indicated that there was every reason to hope that it will be a number of years yet before the cardinals created today will be summoned to the conclave to elect a successor to the Holy See.WORLD PEACE PLANS
PRESENTED AT LAKE
MOHONK CONFERENCE[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 28.—The important office of "limited war or reprisals" in preventing actual armed conflict between nations was pointed out today by Dr. Ellery C. Stowell of New York at the twentieth annual meeting of the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration.
Among such situations he classified the state of affairs now existing between the United States and Mexico.Dr. Stowell is professor of International Law at Columbia University and was secretary to the American delegation to the London Naval Conference of 1909 which drew up a declaration regulating blockade, contraband, neutral service, destruction of neutral prizes and similar subjects.The United States, he said, was the first to set forth the scientific basis of neutrality, and the acts this country passed for its enforcement were far in advance of all other nations."Neutrality snatches from the jaws of war some of the blessings of peace for those who are able to hold aloof and restrict their attention to the horrors of the conflict," he said,
and continued:"Recently we have witnessed a situation in which for several weeks
an American force has been maintained on foreign soil, without our entering into a state of war. Without war, there can, of course, be no neutrality, but in a state of reprisals or contraband, there is no war, and there is a peculiar situation for third states not directly concerned—quasineutrals we might call them. It would be well if some country would propose at the League of Nations
the principle governing this peculiar situation. For just as neutrality helps the cause of peace,
so will measures, short of war, be found to afford a substitute less terrible to itself."This state of limited war or reprisals—this hazy borderland between peace and war—is, I am convinced, destined to play a great part in the amelioration of international relations. It is the important countries recognize this, and facilitate recourse to reprisals instead of forcing a war as quasi-neutrals
they will be willing to assist with their commerce for the sake of the general good.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BY SHERMAN LAW IS
A TRADE HANDICAPJohn D. Ryan Declares Trust Busting
Policy Prevents United States
From Export Trade.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 27.—"The Sherman law and its effect on export trade," was discussed by John D.
Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper Company in an address presented today at the National Foreign Trade convention in this city. He pleaded for the restriction of operations of the Sherman law so as to apply only to internal trade.He asserted that the United States had utterly failed to win its place in the world's markets and that it would be driven still further out by the present policy of breaking large concerns into units and forbidding combinations in export trade."Are American products of the soil and of the mines and forests always to be sold abroad in enforced competition of our own people but also the combined buyers of other countries where combinations are legal? We meet the combined buyers of Europe, and we meet the combined buyers of Japan, and we meet us fighting not only for ourselves but against his own countrymen, and the combined buying strength makes its terms against the divided sellers."When we load our products on the pier for export we meet the shipping combine—German,
—English, —French. We pay the rate for the freight, we pay the combinations. We sell the price, at which they will trade.Trade Handicaps.
He pointed out that in the last decade nearly half of the copper production of the United States was sold to foreign consumers at approximately a cent a pound cheaper, delivered at foreign ports, than it cost at home. He declared that it virtually constituted a $50,000,000 handicap in that period against the American manufacturers. "In spite of the fact that producers of raw copper have no tariff protection, not any governmental help to keep domestic prices higher."The handicap," he continued, "is simply the result of the advantage of combined buyers buying over competitive selling."Taking up the Sherman act he declared that while it was obviously intended to protect the American consumer, the debates of the act
showed that the passage failed to suggest or hint that the consumers of other countries were to be protected by the statute.While the propriety of an amendment of the act itself might be questionable from a legal standpoint
he declared that American business men should have some relief from the position they are in.HARRY THAW LEFT

Madison, Wis., May 28.—Conditions
throughout the state promise an abundant harvest next fall. Prof. R. A.
Moore is more than usually optimistic over what he saw on a tour of the western and eastern Wisconsin, from which he has just returned."On the whole I have never seen the crops in Wisconsin look better for this time of year," he said. "All the crops look very promising. The corn will be big and the winter grains have come through in fine shape. The same is true of alfalfa. We had a dry April, which aided the farmers in getting their spring grain in. The cold
May has been of the greatest aid in giving them root. From reports I have received, about 75 per cent of the Wisconsin corn crop is planted and half of that crop is already up."RECORD PAGEANT HELD order that all St. Louisians and thousands of out-of-town visitors may see it. It's production next Sunday is for the benefit of those who cannot

making it the most potent presentation of its kind ever attempted in this country. Percy MacKay and Thomas Woods Stevens, pageant masters, have spent more than six months to the mammoth production. For the first time in years, the city became interested in its own history, and a movement was started that all St. Louisians study history, and a movement was started to introduce a study of historic
St. Louis in schools.

HOLD COCHRANE ON SERIOUS CHARGES; FIVE DRUNKS FINED

Change Charge Against Cochrane to Assault and Intent to Do Great Bodily Harm—Louis Gower Fined.

After hearing testimony against James Cochrane charged with assault and battery, District Attorney S. G. Townsend, Judge Maxfield in municipal court this morning to change the charge from plain assault to assault with intent to do great bodily harm, which is punished by a heavier sentence. The charge is ordered against Cochrane as the result of an alleged attack made upon his wife last Sunday night at their home on South Washington street.

John Dorsey was placed on the stand and testified that he had visited the home in the afternoon. Not being on friendly terms with Cochrane, he started to leave after being ordered away. As he was leaving the house, the witness stated, he saw Cochrane strike his wife twice with his fists and insists that she was knocked down by the blows. No further questions were asked of Judge Maxfield ruled this evidence was sufficient grounds to change the charge. Cochrane was bound over for trial under eight hundred dollars bonds until June third. Mrs. Cochrane appeared in court but did not testify. Above both of her eyes are dangerous gashes, which are alleged to have been inflicted by her husband when he attacked her with a knife.

Louis Gower, residing at 1214 Mineral Point avenue, was the third victim to the strict prosecution against shooting inside of the city limits started by Chief of Police "Champion" Poulain. Had been made against Gower last week by residents of that section that he had been shooting a number of dogs of the neighborhood. In one case the loss of a valuable dog was shot off and one was reported killed.

Gower could not be found during the early part of the week but was arrested this morning by Police Officer Smith. When brought before Poulain on the charge of shooting firearms within the city limits violating the city ordinance, he pleaded not guilty. Later he admitted shooting a shotgun loaded with rock salt, but claimed that ex-Chief Hanson had given him permission to rid the community of the undesirable dogs along the street. Evidently the neighbors were of a different opinion for several were in court this morning ready to make a complaint. After Judge Maxfield explained to Gower that shooting a firearm loaded with rock salt was violating the ordinance, Gower pleaded guilty and was fined fifteen dollars and costs.

Five Drunks Fined. Five drunks were arraigned in the municipal court this morning and all received fines or continued have. Joseph Olson, the first one to be called before the bar, entered a plea of not guilty. After thinking the matter over Reitz changed his plea and was fined five dollars and costs. Reitz was walking alone River street yesterday afternoon without shoes and Officer Fanning decided it was not yet summer enough to allow him to go barefooted on the thoroughfare. Reitz in court admitted having had four drinks worth of beer but insisted he was in a fair condition.

Joe Meyers of Milton, arrested in the Chicago and Northwestern depot sleeping off a spree, was given ten days in detention and a conditional term of thirty days if a fine of $25 and costs is not paid. Judge Maxfield also made Meyers take the pledge for one year.

"Never again," said Matt Bradley when he was fined ten dollars and costs on his plea of guilty. Bradley also took the pledge. Chris Olson of Orfordville was the second victim of the day to be "banned" in a railroad depot having been arrested at the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul station. Six dollars and costs was handed Olson, which he paid and left immediately for Orford. Robert Higham of Milwaukee, who has been working in Beloit, paid a fine amounting to six dollars.

Suspends Sentence. Joe Jordan, Frank Brown, Fred Murray and Al Fisher, the young vagrants arraigned before Judge Maxfield, Wednesday afternoon, on the charge of petty larceny, were found guilty after a court trial and sentenced to thirty days. The sentence was suspended by Judge Maxfield, and the boys made the most of their opportunity to leave town on the next freight train.

ANNOUNCE NAMES OF PLAYS FOR JUNE 8TH

Janesville Drama Club to Present "Borrowed Spectacles" and "The Workhouse Ward" at Myers Theatre.

With but eleven days remaining before the presentation of "Borrowed Spectacles" and "The Workhouse Ward" by the Janesville Dramatic Club, the members of the casts are exerting every effort to give finished, not amateur productions.

The two English comedies, full of action, with strong lines, are being rehearsed daily, and the culmination of these activities on the evening of June 8th will prove that the club not only stands for something but lives up to its standards.

The members are busily disposing of tickets, which may be exchanged for reserved seats at Kobelin's jewelry store, West Milwaukee street, from June 5th at 9 a. m. until Monday, June 8th.

Rehearsals on the play "Borrowed Spectacles" are being held mornings at the Myers Theatre as early as five o'clock to insure the production being a success. The characters in the cast will be printed next week.

E. R. Winslow Sends Note to Gazette Indicating Keen Enjoyment of Trip.

That Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Winslow are enjoying the first stretch of their lakes to the coast" trip is indicated by the following note to the Gazette, written on Tuesday, from Grinnel, Iowa:

Editor Gazette, Dear Sir: Arrived at Davenport last (Monday) night at 7:30 and crossed the Mississippi there. The roads are very good. We left Davenport this morning at 10:30 and came as far as Grinnel today, a distance of 131 miles. Yesterday's trip was 150, so you see we are not riding for time, but to see the country. From Davenport to Grinnel the roads were the best 134 miles of highway I ever saw in one stretch. All the farms look fine but do not have as fine buildings as in Wisconsin. Will go to Des Moines and Omaha tomorrow (Wednesday). The truck is running fine. Yours respectfully, E. R. Winslow.

CALHOUN DENIES HE PLUNDERED ROAD

Pat Calhoun.

That Patrick Calhoun, traction and real estate magnate of San Francisco and Cleveland, misapplied more than $1,000,000 of the funds of the United Railways Company of San Francisco while he was president of that concern in 1912, is the charge made by the California railroad commission. Calhoun admits that more than a million dollars of the company was lost in a single deal while he was president of the road, but he says he was acting for the directors.

SPANISH PROGRAM GIVEN BY LAUREAN

High School Girls' Literary Club Presented Feature Attraction Before Students This Morning.

Following weeks of constant rehearsal, the girls of the Laurean literary society of the high school, presented to the student body and faculty this morning during the opening exercises, their annual entertainment, which was in the nature of a Spanish program of nine numbers. The girls were all dressed in peculiar dresses, of Spanish styles, and when they took their position upon the front platform, they were greeted by the students. The platform was covered with leaves, forming a beautiful effect. From the ceiling in the center of the stage three jack-o'-lanterns were suspended, and the candles lighted.

The first number was a Spanish song, sung by the entire society. The girls entered the platform from one side the room, and quite surprised the students, who expected nothing as gorgeous and interesting. Miss Ruth Granger accompanied at the piano, with Ruth Souman at the violin.

A Spanish dance by Miss Helen Franklin followed. Miss Franklin cleverly impersonated the real Spanish dancer by her grace and ease. A song by the Misses Phyllis Kelly, Dorothy McWay, Hilda Wool and Elsie S. Richardson was the only number. Florence Suzum was given as the next number.

A Spanish story by Frances T. Field and a Spanish reading by Jessica Goerge, were given, both numbers receiving the most enthusiastic applause. Caroline Richardson appeared with a piano solo, written with a difficult Spanish expression, and it was played exceptionally well.

Another song by the entire club, a second dance by Miss Franklin, and a third song by the club closed one of the most entertaining attractions given at the high school in some time. Miss Richardson was the only Laurean girl not dressed in Spanish garb. Following the first chorus, Miss Richardson, dressed in American costume, appeared as though just having returned to Spain from a trip to America. She briefly described her trip, and the program was carried on.

Whatever Thy Hand Findeth. "I have been a great deal happier," she said at last, "since I've given up thinking about what is easy and pleasant and being discontented because I could not have my own will. Our life is determined for us—and it makes the mind very free when we give up wishing and only think of bearing what is laid upon us, and doing what is given us to do."—George Eliot.

Epitaph of Truth. Fogg says that the oddest epitaph he ever saw was that over the grave of a man who was notoriously lazy. It ran: "Asleep (as usual)."

Old Bob Fitzsimmons' son declares that he isn't anxious to be the world's champion. He is simply content to know that he is the best heavyweight there is without any title or belt.

His paw says that the old man would kill any present white man with one wallop and that Jack Johnson wouldn't be able to lay a finger on him. Plans are beginning to form that they would like to see this young Fitz person perform. The old man has done a deal of talking about it, but never seems to know when he will flash him on an eager crowd. It is to be hoped that when he makes his debut he will make himself to be all that his paw says he is.

Johnson, the Indian pitcher, who started a local feud when he jumped on the Reds from the Reds, finds himself in a rather peculiar situation. The present injunction against his pitching for the Reds applies only in Chicago. Unless further action is taken, he will be able to pitch for the Reds in other cities. Johnson will find that his traveling around the circuit will add up to quite a bit of car fare. He will be obliged to make a careful detour of Chicago whenever he is traveling anywhere near it. Of course should the Reds manage to have the injunction done away with, or if the Reds are able to have him enjoined from playing in every state, the circus assistance will cease to be. Years ago when the American league started up, Lajoie, Flick and other jumpers were obliged to dodge Pennsylvania in the same manner.

The Milwaukee A. A. ball team has always been a pretty good bet in the matter of supplying the big league with capable performers. Some very acceptable recruits have been unearthed in Milwaukee and later developed into star actors on the big time. Leibold, Blackburne, Schalk and Gilbert, all had their time at Milwaukee. And now the Brewers are developing another

The first play in the June trophy event will be on Tuesday, June 2.

Frank Snyder, the Cardinal backstop, is coming in for quite a deal of pleasant comment of late. This is largely because Snyder has been showing remarkable improvement. His wing is said to be one of the best in the league and a most discouraging one to base runners. He has also managed to show real energy at the bat his one shortcoming being slowness on the bases.

Man's Highest Duty.

Prophet words are profitable. Clear, strong, brave and unequivocal utterance of the highest truth one knows is a clear duty owed to God and the world. Let us have men and women who dare to be indiscreet, if need be, for truth's sake. No need be, for truth's sake. No need of our time is greater than this one for single-eyed souls who seek only to declare the clear counsel of God, heedless of consequences to the existing order of things.—Exchange.

THEIR LOSS WOULD CRIPPLE SENATORS

Washington fans are breathing sighs of relief since the announcement by Pitcher Walter Johnson, Catcher Ainsmith and Outfielder Milan of the Senators that the report they were to join the Pittsburgh Reds at the close of the present season was without foundation. Their loss would seriously cripple the Senators, and probably put Griff's team back into the last division.

War Secretary Killed at Sea.

It is somewhat remarkable that the first British secretary of war, Sir W. Clarke, was killed in a naval action. His duties were those of a secretary to the commander-in-chief, and, as such, he accompanied the duke of Albenmarle to sea in 1666, and was killed on June 1. His official salary was at first $2.50, and subsequently $5 a day, out of which he paid his clerks.

At Myers Theatre.

Lou Chha, the "Wizard of the Xylophone," who comes to the Myers theatre, beginning Thursday evening, May 28, for four days, matinee Saturday and Sunday, claims to be the only xylophonist playing this unique instrument with four hammers at one time. This feat is original with the young artist and his rendition of difficult "ragtime" numbers with four hammers is truly wonderful. The instrument used by Lou Chha is one of the largest and most expensive ever constructed. It is a double-tone instrument with an elaborate six-octave double keyboard. Of the many xylophonists touring the country today he is far ahead of any of them. He is a real artist and a master of his favorite instrument. His engagement in this city is a special one and his offering promises to be one of most entertaining of the season.

THE SOLUTION.
It would appear that the peace envoys had agreed among themselves to a preliminary agreement for a peaceful solution of the Mexican problem. Huerta is to be eliminated by the appointment of a commission of five who will govern Mexico and to whom Huerta will delegate his power. It sounds nicely in print, but the next question is how will it work out? Huerta has just received a fresh supply of ammunition and he may think it a shame to surrender without at least one more fight. He may also insist on naming that commission of five. He is a foxy statesman this same Huerta. He knows his value and his price. He has really taken no active part in the fight against Villa and Carranza, leaving that to his generals, but he may decide to take the field and then a different story is told. The men he sent to represent him at Niagara Falls, are men of his own choosing. If he did not have the utmost confidence in them he would not have sent them on such a mission. That they will secure the best terms possible for their employer is most certain without question. That is what they are there for. Thus far Carranza and Villa have not been represented at the conference. What they may say to the plan remains to be seen. Their armies are gradually approaching the City of Mexico and when the final struggle comes they will demand that their rights be recognized in naming the government that is to control Mexico. While the Niagara conference will doubtless aid materially in settling the majority of the disputes, still peace is not assured by any means and it will be months before the soldiers and sailors on Mexican soil and in Mexican waters, can be returned to the United States. The Mexican situation is not going to be settled by the elimination of Huerta by a good deal. There will be both Villa and Carranza to deal with and these men flushed with victory will not be as easily handled as one might imagine. Then there will be the lesser leaders, men who have fought for the love of fighting, and they will want their finger in the political pie, and so while the Niagara conference will settle many things it will not end the Mexican trouble.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.
Ten days ago Walter Owen was to be the La Follette candidate for governor. That was before the Philipp Whitehead-Bentley stalwart gathering in Milwaukee. Now Owen is out and the McGovern and La Follette leaders have centered upon Hutton. Why this change? Did the meeting in Milwaukee bring together the two warring progressive republican factions? Apparently it did and this is about all it can hope to accomplish. County conventions can be called, delegates to the state convention named, the state is probably all prepared now. They can gather there, deliberate, pass upon a platform, nominate a ticket, then adjourn. That will end it as far as they are concerned for the campaign will then revert to a bitter fight between the regular republicans, who have a place on the ticket, and the democrats, and each vote taken from one or the other candidate of the two parties will be practically thrown away. The reason for the apparent union of the La Follette and McGovern forces is not hard to understand. They have combined for mutual protection. They did not fear the democrats as a whole, but they see danger in a further split in the republican ranks.

SHOWS THE SENTIMENT.
That the prohibition sentiment is growing materially all over the whole country is shown most clearly by the measure favoring prohibition now pending in congress, the voting out of the saloons in Illinois, the work of the liquor dealers themselves in seeking to purge themselves of the undesirable element that conduct dram shops and now by the following resolution adopted at the general conference of the Presbyterian church in session in Chicago, which deals not only with the clergy, but with all members of the church. It is a far step toward absolute prohibition this resolution which reads: "Resolved, that any minister or member of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., who is a member of any club or association licensed to sell and does sell intoxicating liquors to its own members or to others, should resign from such club or association in order to be free from the traffic in which the club or association is directly engaged."

SPRING RAINS.
One always welcomes spring rains, but the deluge of the past forty-eight hours is a trifle more than the spring rain variety. It came down in bucket full quantity, washed out roads, drowned out gardens and otherwise made its presence known. Every time it rains and the waters pour down the gutters of the main streets of the city, the great wisdom of the city fathers of days past in permitting the telephone companies to place their poles in the gutters is shown. The water backs up, floods cellars, runs over sidewalks, forms pools in the streets and otherwise conducts itself in a truly annoying manner. It is hardly possible that when the pavement of the main streets was torn up several years ago by the telephone companies to lay their underground wires they meant to take down their overhead poles—in a time, but for goodness sake when is that time coming? Is it not about time to see about it? It is an inconvenience and annoyance that should not be permitted and is not in other cities, but Janesville apparently is willing to put up with anything.

The sad accident which cost the life of one man at a grade crossing Wednesday afternoon is another example of the necessity for better protection at the grade crossings of railways, especially within the city limits. The fact that crossings are provided with bells is not sufficient, apparently, especially when the bells ring all the time and are out of order. Some radical steps should be taken for better grade crossing protection and it is up to the railways to do it without being forced to by the authorities.

Who is this Mr. Lind that is representing the constitutionalists at Washington. Surely not John Lind who was President Wilson's personal representative at Mexico City? It seems improbable that the president would trust his trusted ally to accept a retainer from the Carranza-Villa element while trying to appear neutral in the Mexican trouble. Perhaps there is a mistake in the name, but if not then it is time to call a halt in this chautauqua form of government and go back to the shirt sleeve diplomacy days.

If anyone questions Roosevelt's sincerity in the discovery of the River of Doubt down in Brazil, they must only whisper it. The strenuous colonel is ready to fight anyone who doubts his word and he has a bottle of that river water to prove he discovered it.

This evening there is to be a meeting at the city hall of men who are interested in bringing to Janesville a first-class factory. It is to be hoped the meeting will be successful. The factory in question would make a valuable addition to the local industries and should be obtained.

On The Spur of The Moment
What Spring Means.
Before a man is married:
Beautiful moonlight nights.
Fragrant wild flowers.
Long rides in the country.
Oodles of baby-talk.
Sweetest story ever told.
Picking out the engagement ring.
Long hammock conversations.
Mushy-goo letter every day.
After he is married:
Pounding the rugs.
Taking down the storm house.
Cleaning out the furnace.
Putting up the screens.
Digging up the back yard.
Parleying with bill collectors.
Sharpening the lawnmower.

and which a belle he'd really like to meet.

Uncle Abner.

So long as the corn is knee high by the Fourth of July this country don't have to worry a whole lot about anything else.

Mary's Skirt.
Mary had a little skirt
And it was built so tight
She had to hire a chambermaid
To peel it off at night.
They had to carry her around
And lean her 'gainst the wall.
Because the skirt was so closely fit
She could not walk at all.

She ate her meals off from a shelf.
Because she dared not sit Down in a chair like other folks.
For fear her skirt would split.
But Mary didn't kick at all.
It was just as she'd wish:
She couldn't help around the house
Or wash or wipe a dish.

Signs of the Times.
More people are chewing gum than ever chewed it before, says a report. Well, why not? There are more people than there ever were before. Huerta had made his people believe that El Paso had been captured by the Mexicans. That man could have made a fortune selling mining stock.

Bench Has a Sobering Effect.
"I have become acquainted with about fifty or more district judges of Kansas, as well as a dozen or fifteen supreme justices, and one characteristic of practically all of them that has greatly impressed me is their utter lack of arrogance, self-assertion and domineering instinct," writes Judge J. C. Ruppenthal of Russell.

The loudmouthed swashbuckler who eats the enemy alive, who loudly lays down the law (which none knew so well as he), in the court room, on the street, in the hotel lobbies and wherever he can gather a gaping, awestruck group, to tell what he would do as judge, either never reaches the bench, or is transformed into a model of meekness, cautious, wary of gratuitous opinions, when given power and charged with responsibility.—Kansas City Star.

Tuesday, May 28.—The large and enthusiastic audience which attended the class play, "What Happened to Jones," last night, pronounced the performance a decided success in every way. More than five hundred people packed the auditorium at the college building and there were a few of the neighbors. The play was given at the college building at the close of the evening. THROW NEW LIGHT ON ACTIVITY OF BIRDS

Recent Discoveries in Bird Life Give Different Impression As To Their Value.

New light is shed on the activities of birds as conservers of the public health in a communication to the National Geographic Society, at Washington, D. C., from Henry W. Henshaw, chief of the Biological Survey. The survey for a considerable period has been studying the foods of birds by examining the stomachs of specimens killed for scientific purposes.

The value of birds to the farmer is plain enough, but we do not usually think of birds as having any direct relation to the public health, writes Mr. Henshaw. "To prove that they are, however, it is only necessary to state that 500 mosquitoes have been found in the stomach of a single night hawk, that in a killdeer's stomach hundreds of the larvae of the salt-marsh mosquito have been found, and that many shore birds greedily devour mosquito larvae. As mosquitoes are known to carry the germs of such serious diseases as typhoid, malaria, and dengue, it is evident that by destroying such germs the birds are conferring a distinct benefit on man. It may be added that not infrequently ticks are eaten by birds, and that the tick, which is responsible for the spread of such germs among cattle, has been frequently found in the stomach of a bobwhite.

In considering the many kinds of birds in the United States from the practical side, they may not inaptly be called a public force of the air, the chief duty of which is to restrain within bounds the hordes of insects that if unchecked would devour every green thing. To accomplish this task successfully, the members of the force must be variously equipped. As the bulk of insects spend more or less time on the ground, we find more birds are fitted for terrestrial service than for any other. Our largest bird, the vulture, is chiefly terrestrial. It is aided in its search for insects by the thrushes, wrens, certain of the warblers and many other birds. So many insects burrow into trees that a highly specialized class of birds—the woodpeckers—are developed to dig them out. The bills, tongues, feet and even tails have been cunningly adapted to this end. The bark of trees also forms a favorite shelter for numerous insects, and hence the wrens, nuthatches, creepers, with sharpest of eyes and slenderest of bills. The air is full of flying insects, and to take care of these are the swallows, swifts and night-hawks, whose wings and bodies are shaped as to follow them with the speed and agility necessary to follow all the turns and windings of their nimble insect prey. The whilpoorwill, attend to the night-flying insects, whose most, as sleep, while the hawks by day and the owls by night supplement the work of other birds and have a special function of their own, the destruction of noxious rodents.

Notwithstanding the fact that the average under cultivation in the United States is larger than ever before, and that the crops are greater, the cost of foodstuffs continually mounts upward. Meanwhile the destruction of farm and orchard crops by insects and rodents amounts to many millions each year. If any part of this loss can be prevented it will be so much clear gain. Since birds perform such invaluable service, every effort should be made to protect them. This can be done by furnishing nesting boxes for certain species to nest in, as swallows, martins, wrens, woodpeckers, great-crested flycatchers and others; by planting berry-bearing shrubs about the farm and orchard as food for the birds in winter, and by the establishment of bird sanctuaries where birds may be reasonably safe from their natural enemies and be permitted to live and breed in absolute security as far as man is concerned.

Last but not least important may be mentioned the element of safety from cats. Friendly overtures to birds from householders who regard tabby as a necessary member of the family are not likely to be successful, or if so the experiment is apt to end in the death of the condescending birds. Birds and cats do not thrive in the same neighborhood.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:
In my opinion the height of nothing to do is to sprinkle the streets with the town water cart while it is raining great guns, and to let the dust blow in clouds for want of said town water cart when the folks are willing to pay for it. What is the answer?

"DUSTY."

Poor Patriotic Sympathy.
The grocers' and butchers' agreement to close their places of business Saturday afternoon, Decoration Day, was dropped due to one butcher, who refused to sign the same, regardless of the fact that every other grocery and meat market in town was willing. The petition was passed around to every grocery and meat market in the city and all signed it with the exception of this one butcher, which caused the petition to be dropped.

PROTECT GRASS BY CUTTING IT LONG

Rake Should Not Be Used Is Belief—
Roots of Grass Are Delicate.

Grass should be cut "long" so that the roots will be protected after the cutting. This means, says the department of agriculture landscape gardener, that the lawn mower should be set just as high as it will go.

Lawns should be cut frequently and in ordinary cases where the cuttings are normal they should be left where they fall, notwithstanding the contrary opinion of the energetic person who follows up his cuttings by raking with an iron rake. Lawns should never be raked with an iron rake, except to prepare them for the sowing of grass seed for such raking harrows up the soil. Neither should they be swept.

If the diligent caretaker of a lawn must follow up the cutting by some other operation, only a wooden rake should be used, and this should be employed carefully so as not to disturb such of the grass clippings as have sifted down around the roots. These grass clippings that settle around the roots afford them a very important protection and will do much to keep the lawn in fine condition when there is lack of rain later in the season, for they will hold the moisture and act as a shield from the sun. In fact, the grass cuttings are generally needed about the roots, and should not detract from the looks of the lawn, for they soon shrivel, dry up, and work their way down, so that they are no longer noticed. Grasses are naturally cool-climate plants and are liable to be harmed by the hot sun about the roots.

FIVE LA PRAIRIE SCHOOLS HOLD A SPELLING CONTEST

Students from five towns of La Prairie schools met at Superintendent O. Antisdel's office shortly before five o'clock this afternoon for a township spelling contest. The winners will compete in the county event to be held at the time of the rural school graduation exercises in June. The results of the town of Bradford contest have been received, first honors going to Vera Dodge of Avalon. Another Avalon pupil won second and third place went to Emerald Grove. Contestants were entered from four schools.

ADELINA PATTI

The Queen of Singers.
There was a time, and it is not entirely passed, when to mention prima donnas you would instantly think of Adelina Patti. She was born in Madrid, Spain, and her parents were operatic singers of Italian ancestry. She first sang at an early age in New York, but her fame was secure after her first appearance in London, and from that time she held high rank as one of the first singers of the day. The rich bell-like quality of her voice and remarkable evenness of tone had a range as a high soprano never surpassed, and her cadenzas and trills were the delight of her admirers. Adelina Patti will owe much of her fame to the way and manner in which she sang "Comin' Thro' the Rye," although her greatest success was "Marguerite" in "Faust." She never underestimated the value of the songs that touched the heart. "The Last Rose of Summer" is a song that will always be identified with Patti.

The Beavers met at Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Spicer's Monday night and after business session members enjoyed a luncheon of the cream and cake.

W. S. Humphreys was appointed delegate, with a full can of milk on instep of foot, which will be very painful for some time.

Shojiere schools will close June 4th.

Royal, the young son of Albert Mier, met with what might have been a very serious accident. While unloading a neighbor's milk wagon on Saturday from the factory, his horse started and threw Royal to the ground with a full can of milk a full can of milk on instep of foot, which will be very painful for some time.

A good many of our citizens, especially parents of children who have taken diploma examinations, are protesting against the present system used in Rock county, believing it to be unfair, and not giving young children a square deal by taking them from their own school room to a strange school, with new surroundings and faces, and expect them to do their best and pass examinations satisfactorily. The fact is, they believe many of their children fail not because they do not know, but because they are embarrassed by new faces and surroundings, their attention is taken from work, and they fail.

Justice for Little Men.

"These people say they were not a trust," said George K. Service, the noted Denver lawyer, apropos of a convicted corporation. "Well, trust or no, the outside dealer got about as much justice at their hands as the little man got in the theater."

"A big, fat man at the theater sat on his overcoat. Thus the little man behind him could not see at all."

"I can't see anything, mister," said the little man plaintively, touching the big man on the shoulder.

"Can't see anything, hey?"

"No, sir; I can't see a thing."

"Well, then, I'll fix you up. Just keep your eye on me and laugh when I gig."

The program closed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The visitors were highly pleased with the splendid hospitality shown them by the local ladies, and all said it was one of the most enjoyable days they had ever had.

The Albany Corps deserve much praise for with a membership of only seventeen, eleven women braved the threatening weather and bad roads and made the trip to our city, and were amply repaid. Albany Corps is the "baby" corps in this vicinity, having been organized but a short time. Such occasions are a pleasure and mutual benefit to each other and the local corps entertain about five corps annually.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"AFTER ALL, IT'S ONLY MONEY."

"NAY, let me tell you, there be many that have forty times our estates that would give the greatest part of it to be healthful and cheerful like us; who, with the expense of a little money, have ate and drank, and laughed, and angled, and sung, and slept securely and rose next day and cast away care, and sung and laughed, and not a hair of their heads is missing, which are blessings rich men cannot purchase with all their money."

"I am sure," said the lady who always knows somehow, "that the unhappiness which comes from various forms of anxiety and worry and by how much do you imagine you would reduce the sum of the world's woes?"

"By one-half surely, possibly more."

"Then set aside the money worries of those who fear actual want and deprivation, and by how much do you think you would reduce that sum total?"

"Probably about ninety-nine one hundredths, possibly more."

"The Lady-Who-Always-Knows-Somehow looked a bit disturbed the other day about a letter. 'Anything wrong?' I ventured to ask. 'Another investment has passed its dividend,' she said. 'That's the third time this year that's failed us. It will worry Richard, I'm so sorry.'"

"I am, too," I answered. The thought that she was letting her trouble sadden another seemed to arouse the lady.

"Oh, well," she said, "they say better times are coming. And anyhow (with a sudden brightening of her sweet face) it's only money after all. I am ashamed to worry over that."

"It's only money, after all"—do you ever remember to say that when you find yourself fretting over money affairs?

Try it sometime. Say to yourself, "after all, it's only money. It isn't death. I haven't lost anything I can never get back. Think a moment of losing someone out of your life who makes up the half of it, or carry yourself back in memory to some chill moment of past loss, and see if you cannot say with more than lip gravity, "after all, it's only money."

Yes, my friend, I realize that. Poverty was a superficial, temporary matter; it would vanish at the touch of money.

Of all the bits of philosophy in that remarkable human document, that left the deepest impression on my mind.

"It's easy to feel that way when it's all over," you tell me.

"Yes, my friend, I realize that. But even at the very moment, if you will try, you can lay hold of the great and helpful fact, 'after all, it's only money.'"

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Work is the artist that builds a splendid arch; worry, the enemy which removes the keystone, allowing the structure to fall.

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS.

When you are roasting or baking set the alarm clock at the time you desire to look at your dishes and you can freely give your mind to other work.

Put a silver knife in a glass fruit jar down into the fruit to let out every bit of air. See that the knife is well scalded and clean.

After the rubber and lid has been placed on a jar and screwed as tightly as possible with the handle of a knife or fork, press the edge of the lid down all around, pressing firmly down on the rubber. You will never have a leaky jar if you have good rubbers and tops well put on.

When wiping the jars use a special cloth for the purpose, not the dish-cloth.

A delicious sandwich filling is chopped almonds which have been blanched and two parts of finely chopped celery with a dash of salt and a little mayonnaise dressing.

Flour sacks make good dish towels. To remove the lettering rub well with soap and put into cold water with a little kerosene. The paint will soften and often one boiling will do the work. If not entirely removed, soap again and boil up once more. Rinse and hang out on the line.

Kerosene will clean porcelain like magic. Rub the surface to be cleaned with a cloth dampened with kerosene, and it will not injure the surface.

Rub the cork which is used in the glue or cement bottle with vaseline, and it will always be removed easily.

Waxed paper is a great convenience in the home. It will preserve eatables from the air and keep them moist.

It is indispensable in the lunch basket. Cheese well wrapped in waxed paper will keep moist and eatable.

Fruit wrapped in it will keep fresh, and if kept on ice will be most attractive when served.

Try using a small piece of mosquito netting basted under the large hole of the child's stocking and weave the darned cotton in and out of its meshes. This will prove a great help to a tired mender of many hose.

Women Worth While

MRS. ALBERT S. BURLERSON.

(By Selene Armstrong Harmon.) "Am I in the market? Do I want to sell what I write? Certainly."

And Mrs. Albert S. Burleson, the plucky and diminutive wife of the postmaster general, drew herself up to her fullest height and looked every inch the successful writer of plays, sketches and short stories.

"Last week," she continued, "I had a short story accepted and received for it $75. This is no great sum, to be sure, but there is a certain gratification in the reward of honest toil, however modest that reward may be."

Preston Gibbs, society man of Washington, and himself a writer of many plays, produced Mrs. Burleson's play, "His Secretary," at a Washington theater. The whole official and resident society at the capital flocked to see the first play of the pen of a cabinet member's wife that has ever appeared on a vaudeville bill.

Mr. Burleson, who has been in the play lavishly, and with exquisite taste, and this, together with the humor and cleverness of Mrs. Burleson's lines, made every performance a notable one.

"I cannot say that I have a favorite among modern dramatists," says Mrs. Burleson, "I read them all, Shaw, Galsworthy, Wilde, Sudermann and the others. No, I cannot say that the problem-play tendency of the modern drama interests me particularly. That phase of the drama seems to me over-emphasized these days. I believe the best play is that which holds the mirror up to life and human nature, and that which exaggerates them. My own ambition is to keep my pen perfectly true to life."

"When do I write and what is my literary method? You will be surprised to know that almost the only time I give to writing of any sort is when I lie down to rest for a half hour or more each day. During this rest time, and often interrupted by telephone calls, I manage to cover a few sheets of my writing pad."

"Since I was nineteen years old I have been snatching a few moments when I could do this work. Writing is to me the most deeply desired and most satisfactory form of self-expression. But when it comes to being written of as of literary woman, the mere thought of that is embarrassing to me."

Mrs. Burleson has written a number of plays, and is more interested in playwriting than in any other form of literary work.

The Burlesons are this season occupying a huge old home in the old-fashioned residence section of Washington. Here they entertain a great deal. Mrs. Burleson's drawing room is always thronged on her days at home. The young daughters add to the popularity of the Burleson home.

Age of Talent.

According to some recently compiled statistics, the most chemical and medical discoveries have been made by men of forty years of age. Forty-four is the age at which a poet may expect to do his best work; soldiers and explorers tend to distinguish themselves most at the age of forty-seven; at forty-eight years of age the composers and actors are at the summit of their powers; politicians excel at fifty-two years, philosophers at fifty-four and humorists at fifty-six. These figures preach patience to the young.

Honor to Kitchener.

A statue of Lord Kitchener has just been unveiled in Calcutta. A large gathering of Bengal notables, European and Indian, all the regular troops in the garrisons, and a large contingent of Boy Scouts witnessed the unveiling of the statue. The governor, Lord Carmichael, made a speech in which he praised Lord Kitchener's ability as a soldier and an administrator.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) How can I cure a very sore corn? (2) Kindly publish the recipe for an inexpensive cleansing cream. (3) What can I do for oily hair? (4) I am nearly eighteen years old and work in a department store. How much ought I to earn? (5) Should a school teacher dance the tango? (6) Will wheelchairs be worn this summer? HARRIET V.

(1) The best and simplest remedy is either banana peel or lemon peel. Banana is the more soothing at first. Bind on a fresh piece of the peel, white side against corn, every night and morning. Soon the soreness will be gone and a little later you can cut the entire corn away.

(2) A good cold cream: 4 oz. orange flower water, 4 oz. oil of sweet almonds, 2 oz. white wax. Melt wax and oil in double boiler, remove from fire and beat in orange flower water; best until cool. Plain fresh lard is also good as a cleansing cream.

(3) Use the following mixture for all hair: 2 oz. alcohol, 2 oz. witch hazel, 12 grains resorcin. Use daily, rubbing well into the scalp. Also, refrain from eating greasy foods.

(4) The lowest living wage that so far has been recommended in any state is $8 a week. A girl cannot support herself decently on less.

(5) It depends upon where she dances it. On the whole, I do not think it would be best. (6) Yes; they will be more popular than ever.

time ago I was invited out of town. There was a fellow I liked and I was introduced to him. When I got home I wrote him a letter. I know now that I should not have written the letter to him. If I should ever see him again, as I think I will, should I apologize to him or should I act as if I had forgotten all about the letter? I am seventeen years old.

(2) Do you think the "Trade School for Girls" is a nice place to go to? OBLIGED.

(1) Do not apologize and do not mention the letter. If he says anything about the letter, tell him that it was just a girlish impulse and that if you had thought twice you would not have bothered him with such a foolish thing.

(2) I think a trade school for girls is a very necessary thing, and it would do more girls a lot of good to attend one.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am fifteen and my chum is sixteen.

(1) I go with a boy just to break another girl's date. Do you think I am wise?

(2) How do you make "love"? (3) Is there any harm in flirting?

HAZEL.

(1) I think you are unkind. Also, I don't think much of the fellow who allows you to break his date with another girl.

(2) It's a question of taste and circumstance. Some people make love by making goo-goo eyes and acting silly. Some do it by flattery, some by invitations and presents and some by sitting in the parlor sofa and kissing and hugging, or on a park bench and ditto.

(3) There is always a great deal of harm, especially to the girl.

Household Hint

Beefsteak Pie—Use the tail of Sunday's steak, which had been removed before cooking, and any pieces which may have been left, also the bone. Cover with boiling water, add one-half onion chopped fine, put on slow fire and let boil gently for two hours, keeping covered with water. Put in potatoes, which have been cut into quarters, the last half hour, add pepper and salt. Make pie crust by cutting two level tablespoons of lard into two cups of flour, sifted with one-half level teaspoonful of salt. Add about one-fourth cup of ice cold water, just enough to hold mixture together. Line bottom of baking dish with three-fourths of the dough, prick it in several places and place in oven until crisp. Remove the mixture from the top, add one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and turn into crust. Put on top crust an apple in oven to brown.

When washing china with silt up never use soda. Rub a little soap on the dishcloth to make a nice lather, then rinse in clear cold water.

The reason that some marmalade will not jelly is probably because it has not boiled enough. Marmalade wants a good deal more boiling than jam. It requires from two and a half to three hours.

When putting cherries away for future use add slices of lemon.

Strawberry Sillibub—Line a glass bowl with thin slices of sponge cake. Pour over the cake enough strawberry juice to dissolve the cake. Rub off on slices of loaf sugar the yellow part of two oranges, and dissolve the sugar in a pint of rich cream. Squeeze the juice of the oranges on some powdered loaf sugar, and add gradually to the cream. When the mixture is a stiff froth, then beat it on the dissolved cake. Ornament the top with large strawberries, halved.

Strawberry Charlotte—Mash a quart of ripe capped berries, and season abundantly. Beat the whites of four eggs stiff, then whip the berries strained through a sieve. Beat until smooth and stiff. Line a chilled dish with sponge cake, and fill with the pink whip. Put the top thickly with ripe berries.

Strawberry Wine—Wash and strain six quarts of ripe strawberries. To every quart of juice add an quart of water and a pound of sugar. Stir well and turn into a crock to ferment. When the fermentation ceases, run off carefully, bottle and cork.

DECIDE TO CONTINUE RURAL Y. M. C. A. WORK

L. A. MARKHAM ACHIEVES SUCCESS DURING FIRST YEAR OF WORK IN ROCK COUNTY.

ELABORATE BANQUET

Frank West of Wisconsin University Association Work, Gave Short Talk—About Forty Present.

The first annual business men's banquet, given under the auspices of the Rock county rural Y. M. C. A. committee, was held last evening at the Rock county association building. About forty men from this city and surrounding villages in the county were present, to partake of the delicious menu. The banquet was called to order by president of the county work, George R. McLaughlin of Rock Prairie. He told the men of the county that the Y. M. C. A. is a body to what is termed the first annual function of its kind, stating that L. A. Markham, Rock county secretary, needed their co-operation in the work which he has started. He said that in the past, and to aid him in the future, not only financially but in a hundred other ways. After three cheers were given for Mr. Markham, the recommendation committee reported their first annual report, which contained the good news, concerning the accomplishments throughout the county during the past year. Another cheer for Markham was then made. Mr. Markham took about ten minutes to answer any questions concerning all phases of the county Y. M. C. A. work, which were not easily understood, or which some of the men knew nothing about. In closing, Mr. Markham emphasized the county camp, which is to be held in about two weeks at Maple Grove Point, Lake Koshkonong. The program to be carried out during each of the four days stay at the lake, was outlined.

In the treasurer's report, Mr. Birkenmeier stated that to date, $1,200 had been collected through subscriptions, all voluntary, and that every cent had been accounted for. Since the hundred dollars is to be raised for the coming year.

Because of the absence of A. W. Hopkins, agricultural editor of the college of agriculture at Madison, it was necessary to have another speaker to fill his place, and Mr. Markham was very fortunate in securing Frank West, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. and a man well versed with the association work.

Mr. West began his talk by comparing the county associations to the city Y. M. C. A's. "The closest co-operation is demanded today," said the speaker, "and is seen in all places where the county work is being carried on. The proposition that confronts us today is to save the young men. Go a hold of him before he goes to the city, and start him out right. This is why the city of Chicago is going to have a great men's hotel within the near future, run on the same basis that the Y. M. C. A's are run."

"The Y. M. C. A. has taken charge of immigrants, quite extensively, and we hope before many years to have all of the immigrants started right in making America, morally, a cleaner and better spot. We have already realized success of our work in the navy. It was 'Fighting Bob' Evans who said: 'The success of the naval tour around the world was due to the moral condition of the crews on board and this all came through the good Y. M. C. A. The work is progressing in all lines, and we hope for the best success in every community.'"

EXAMPLES GIVEN AS RESULT OF TARIFF

Respective of Market Values From Railroad and Industrial Shares Shown.

(By Winfield Jones.)

Washington, D. C., May 24.—As illustrating in part the tremendous blow inflicted upon American prosperity by the Underwood free-trade tariff, the Pittsburgh, Pa. Gazette-Times recently printed a list of ten industrial shares and an equal number of railroad shares, giving their respective market values in October, 1912 and in May, 1914. The contrast is startling. In the ten industrial shares mentioned there was a depreciation in value amounting to $293,933,672, while in the ten railroad shares the depreciation of $383,943,372. Here is a total depreciation of $677,877,044 in twenty shares of companies engaged in industrial production and in transportation that has taken place since the presidential election of 1912, gave notice to the country that the long-appealed-for policy of protection was to be displaced for four years by the long-discredited policy of free trade.

Of course, the twenty issues of shares which show a decline of more than half a billion dollars, represent only a small portion of the industrial and transportation properties of the whole country. The Gazette-Times estimates at "over two billions" the grand total of depreciation resulting from free-trade. This estimate is certainly none too high. There has been a corresponding shrinkage in the market value of the bond issues of the several thousand corporations doing business in this country. United States government bonds and English consols have sold at record low prices. These shrinkages add heavily to the estimate of two billions of lost value.

But there have been many other shrinkages that cannot be so accurately enumerated. For example, real estate values have been depreciated to an enormous extent. In the city of New York alone the total loss in real estate and borrowing values of real estate is believed to have amounted to one billion dollars in the past two years. Farm land values have fallen throughout the United States probably a billion dollars as a consequence of free-trade in the farm products of this country. United States government bonds and English consols have sold at record low prices. These shrinkages add heavily to the estimate of two billions of lost value.

When the hosiery and knit goods manufacturers told congress that a reduction in the tariff on their product would seriously injure their business and hence the one but the foreigners, the democratic congressmen decided them. The tariff was to be reduced at all hazards, and the manufacturers must submit. They have had to submit, but, to judge from the remarks of those attending the convention of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers this week, they do not oppose to submit. The president of the association expressed the general sentiment when he said that they should organize and work to elect a similar shump in business. The owner of another mill sold out his machinery and closed rather than attempt to do business under existing conditions. Other manufacturers state that many hosiery buyers, accustomed to make heavy purchases in May and June, are in Germany seeking to make there the purchases they usually make here. They have all quantities for the hosiery imports in March were 72.8 per cent greater than in the same month last year. And finally, the German manufacturers, who have not been catering to American trade, are waiting to ascertain whether the existing tariff is worth their while to buy the necessary machinery for American styles. If the reduced tariff should continue the American hosiery business will be practically destroyed, or there must ensue a deep cut in wages.

Yet the price of hosiery is no less than it was a year ago. Every extra unit imported has replaced a unit built by American workmen in American mills. The money for them has been paid to foreign labor and the profit has gone into the pockets of foreign manufacturers. The American workmen have been discharged or are working on part time and the manufacturers are facing the future with deep misgivings.

We would not now offer these years of experience by loaning our own money on these same securities in these same localities if we could find anything better. Based on the fact we have yet to sell the first mortgage on which there is a loss or even inconvenience to a customer we recommend these at once. Gold-Stacker Loan & Credit Co., W. O. A Little Homely Philosophy

"Don't make excuses, make good!" Does that trite saying hold your attention long enough to cause you to stop a moment and ask yourself what you are doing?

Are you making excuses? Or, are you making good?

"I am not making excuses," you answer, "but neither am I making good. For me, things seem to be standing still."

Is it not the law of human nature that one cannot stand still; that we are either forced forward or back? Knowing this, resolve to make good. Get in the game! Back your life's engine on the siding for a thorough inspection of yourself if you must—but don't stay on the siding too long. The other fellow will beat you if you do.

Is that a sermon? Could you put the last paragraph to this little sketch? What if we become irrelevant and say, "Do you know the genuine, practical aid that is to be derived from the use of the want ad page in your own home paper?"

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
THE CASE OF ANY PIANO is largely a matter of time. There would be less fraud practiced in the piano trade if the buyer would carefully select clear of the furniture idea, and consider the musical qualities more carefully. We have some "trade ins" that we got in exchange for players, that are of superlative quality. Now is the time to get busy. A. V. Lytle, Opposite Post Office, 2-5-25-41.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, May 28, 1874.—The city fathers held their fortnightly meeting last night with the mayor and all the aldermen present, except Mayor and Church. Many important measures were brought up for consideration, the most important being the motion for the securing of more lights for the city. A motion was also made by Alderman Davies that the city should elect a city marshal. The vote of the aldermen was a tie and the mayor voted no, thus killing the measure.
On Tuesday Mr. Yates' wagon was considerably damaged on West Milwaukee street, but nobody was injured. Part of the vehicle dropped out of position and alarmed the Arab steed, which was standing in harness. But after caroling a few the steed came to order and has been much complimented on his discretion since the memorable event thus chronicled. The weather today meant roasting, but the citizens took it as coolly as they could, and were full of pity for the monarch of the warmer realms.
At ten thirty a. m. the glass stood at 35 degrees and at one in the afternoon it had fallen to eighty-one. The Catholic Social last night attracted a big crowd and there was not a trowsy bachelor to be seen. Soon after eight, the company began to arrive, and before nine the more enthusiastic had begun to select partners. Everybody meant dancing, so their was little time spent in the preliminary concert. The Quadrille Band played their best and the enlivening music which they discouraged seemed the only possible accompaniment. It was given note that a man of sad and serious deportment, who is suspected of writing for a newspaper and is never known to smile, could not keep his feet still last evening, while he was busily making his notes, and put for the kindness of Brother Lappin, who escorted the fellow upstairs, that he would be in Apollo Hall to this hour footing it merrily.

---And the Worst is Yet to Come

Test for Seeds.
Seeds not sufficiently ripe will float in water, but when arrived at full maturity they will sink to the bottom, and this is proof that they are good to plant.

Few People Walk Properly.
The importance of a graceful carriage can hardly be overestimated. Few people walk properly and well. One's walk should be easy, graceful, and, above all, natural. Do not turn the toes in, but take firm and decided steps. Do not bring the heels down with a thump at each step, but have them moderately long and quiet. A well-known writer says, "Whoever carries the chin close to the neck is all right from top to toe and will walk well."

OFFICIAL NOTICE.
Notice of final determination of benefits and damages on Milton Avenue, Linn Street, Franklin Street, Oakland Avenue, Jackson Street and Garfield Avenue, from St. Mary's Street to Jackson street from South Third street to Garfield Avenue, and Garfield Avenue from Oakland Avenue to the south line of lot 10, block 11, Forest Park addition, at the expense of the real estate to be benefited thereby, and made a final determination of the amount to be assessed to each parcel of real estate
